

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We have a number of excellent events coming up in the summer period, and the Board really is hoping that these will meet with your approval and participation. It's time to put some miles on the Packards!

First, we have Cruisin' Grand on May 29. This will be very different this year – it's not planned as a major weekend event, just a nice get together. We are participating with the Classic Car Club and Pierce-Arrow. The plan is to meet at Stone Brewery by 4 pm and caravan down to Broadway and Main. No sign ups required, but please let one of the board members know if you are planning to participate.

The SoCal swap meet is June 14, at a new location at 100 S. Main St. in Santa Ana.

July 18 is our second caravan – the North County one in April hosted by Karl was a real winner. This time, it's Gary Wysong's opportunity to one up Karl with the South County Caravan. Gary briefed me on it recently and I think it will be fun.

August has two shows where we really would like to see a maximum participation. August 2 is the National City Car Show, and Packard is the featured marque. No excuses here – it's free to all Packards.

Then on August 22, there is an orphan car show in Balboa Park for Packard, Studebaker, and Pierce Arrow only. We sure don't want to be outnumbered! Participation is limited to the first 50 cars.

Thanks in advance for participating, hopefully in all these events.

And some good news – we have a new member, Fred Puhn. You will all get to know him and his Packard soon – if you want to know more about Fred and his Packard, I'm sure he will be pleased to see you at National City if not before – he is one of the organizers.

Todd

Seventy Years Young

by Brian Wagner

The Year was 1939. The New York World's Fair was in full swing. Over 45 million people would end up viewing the Fairs' highlight exhibit, Futurama, a vision of transportation in 1960. In 1939, Raymond Chandler published The Big Sleep and Ernest Hemingway penned The Snows of Kilimanjaro while Judy Garland sang Glenn Miller's Over the Rainbow and Frank Sinatra joined the Harry James orchestra. The year is often considered by movie historians as the greatest year in film history. The two top grossing films were Gone with the Wind and The Wizard of Oz.

On September 30, the 4,869th of 28,158 1940 Packard One Twenties left the East Grand Avenue factory in Detroit and traveled to Packard Norfolk, Inc. in Virginia. It helped make the 1940 Packard line the second best sales year in its history at 98,000 cars. The car was bought new for $1239 by Frank Watkins who was stationed in the Navy at Norfolk. He was transferred shortly thereafter to San Diego and the car was used as a family car in the Point Loma area for thirty three years until it was lovingly acquired by Joe Whitaker in 1972, one of the founders of the San Diego Packards Club. (Recounted Joe: "Myself and another guy by the name of Steve Cullen, he had a '36 and I was driving around here in San Diego one day and he came up beside me and hollered and asked me if I wanted to start a club, so that is how it got started here in San Diego.")

"My favorite of all the Packards was the '40. I had always liked Packards as a kid and thought the style of the 1940 was very distinctive and above everything else. I had known the car for a long time since Frank and I were in the Navy together. We casually talked one time how I would like to own it. He retired as a captain from the Navy. He went his way, and I went mine and than one Sunday he called and asked if I wanted to buy it. He wanted $600 for it and I could not pass it up."

Joe ended up owning five Packards: the 1940 120, a 1948 Custom Eight, a 1956 Executive, a 1951 300 and a 1954 Clipper. The 1940 120 was his favorite. "It just drove so well and cruised along so easy. My wife Pauline went on every trip we took. (The Packard's license plate was "JCW PW") We both were working at the time and we always timed our vacations so we could go on the national tours – we went on almost every one. I have driven the 120 back to my home in Texarkana, Texas a number of times, did a Northern California national tour with it, plus the Bicentennial Celebration in San Antonio. Took it to Indianapolis and ran it on the Indy 500 track. The San Antonio tour was the longest – 3,100 miles. I drove it in 117 degree heat and never had any problems. The car never broke down on a tour."

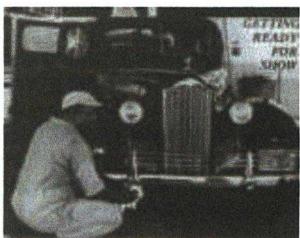

Joe enjoyed taking good care of all of his Packards and using them for their intended purpose – traveling on the open road. For many years from 1976 on, Joe and Pauline never missed a National tour or an All-Cal tour. In 1980, they were the only people to go from the Mexican border to Canada for the Three Nations Grand Tour and in 1982 they were the only people to attend both National Tours – East and West. His cars were no trailer queens. "I like to see an old car well kept and preserved as is. I wanted my cars to be mechanically sound, and that is where I put my money. We went to all these places and a lot of the time it was the shiniest cars that were breaking down. The engine and transmission on the '40 120 was rebuilt. I did the brakes, redid the front seat, new rear axles, but the car has never been repainted. The radiator is original. No dents and a lot of the chrome is still original. I just enjoyed the car like it was."

Along the way, Joe sold all of his Packards except the 1940 120. As he approached his 80th birthday, it came time for his last Packard to leave home.

"I guess I am a pretty practical person. I thought about it for a long time and knew the day was coming. But you cannot but help to be sentimental about something you have had so long."

After thirty six years, Joe sold the car to the author last year. As the third person to have the 120 in his garage, I realize you do not own cars like this. You are the custodian of its history.

One of the main components of the 1939 World's Fair Futurama was its vision of an automated highway system in 1960. Radio controlled cars would travel on four lanes travelling at 50 miles per hour, two at 75 and two at 100. Thank goodness this vision has not come to pass. We like our cars. They expand our horizons and become vehicles of adventure and freedom. We like being behind the wheel, on the road, especially in cars that are seventy years old with a young soul that still likes to explore. Thanks to Mark Rothermich for his help in researching this article.

COASTAL CARAVAN SOUTH – SATURDAY JULY 18

Our meeting place will be at 10:00 a.m. at the Chula Vista Nature Center parking lot, found by taking the E Street exit on Interstate 5 South. Make a right turn into the free parking lot at the end of the E Street Exit. Activities for the day include: a 1½ hour self-guided tour of the Chula Vista Nature Center, lunch at Anthony's Fish Grotto (directly across the street from our free parking lot), caravan south to view the South Bay Salt Works, drive on the Silver Strand Highway, drive along the Coronado Yacht Club and Coronado Golf Course and finish the tour with a spectacular drive across the Coronado Bridge.

The Chula Vista Nature Center is located on Gunpowder Point, where an explosive used in fuses, Cordite, was manufactured during World War One from the chemicals acetone and potash extracted from kelp. The remains of those buildings are gone, but the CVNC received an Orchid Award for building design in 1988 and was accredited by the American Association of Museums in 1992. The site is now located in the Sweetwater Marsh National Wildlife Refuge.

Some of the features of the CVNC are a Bald Eagle and Golden Eagle Exhibit, Shark & Ray Experience, Green Sea Turtle Lagoon, Bay Zone – Jellyfish Exhibit, Shorebird Aviary, Raptor Row Exhibit, Burrowing Owl Aviary, Rainbow Trout Exhibit, Marsh Zone Exhibit, Clapper Rail breeding and release program, and Nature Trails near the bay. Hopefully, something of interest for everyone.

Prices (Including shuttle bus): Adults $6.00 (18-54), Seniors $5.00 (55+), Juniors $4.00 (12-17), Children $3.00 (4-11), under 4 Free.

After our tour of the CVNC, we'll take our ½ mile shuttle bus back to the parking lot, and walk (or drive) across the street to Anthony's Fish Grotto for lunch at about noon. This is your opportunity to view sea creatures in the morning and enjoy others for lunch, either in the Anthony's aquarium or from the menu.

After lunch, a caravan will proceed south with a brief stop to view the salt mounds at the South Bay Salt works, where 75,00 tons of sea salt are harvested annually.

We will briefly enter Interstate 5 South, remain in the right lane and turn into Imperial Beach for our run up the Silver Strand Highway. The caravan will conclude after we make our spectacular crossing of the Coronado Bridge, where we will part ways with an onramp to either Interstate 5 North or South.

No R.S.V.P. necessary, attend all or part of the activities if you can.
